couldn't care less insofar as the fairness of the committee members is concerned. All the bills will get a fair hearing regardless of where they go but let's not start bending the rules and ducking for cover and refusing to face the issue.

PRESIDENT: Senator Lewis, did you have your light on? Senator DeCamp.

SENATOR DeCAMP: A question of Senator Mahoney.

SENATOR MAHONEY: Yes.

SENATOR DeCAMP: Senator Mahoney, so I can understand some of the reasoning on bill reference by the Committee, Reference Committee, where does the Committee normally send bills dealing with practice and procedures in the courts?

SENATOR MAHONEY: There is two ways to answer that question. I will be as close to the answer as I can. We normally send most of the things that were to do with courts or procedures to Judiciary, but there comes a time in fairness, Senator De Camp, that when Judiciary gets an awful lot of bills, then we have to, not very often, we send those to other areas.

SENATOR DeCAMP: Certainly.

SENATOR MAHONEY: Because you have a little different area here, and the fact is, Senator DeCamp, and the Reference Committee would have made this decision but there was input from three different areas.

SENATOR DeCAMP: But they did rule that way, they did rule in favor of the Judiciary?

SENATOR MAHONEY: And then later it was rescinded because it was discussed about a third bill that was coming.

SENATOR DeCAMP: Where do they normally send bills establishing, terminating, creating statutes of limitations, and whether it is statutes of limitations on the construction industry or insurance or claims or litigations, where do they normally send statutes of limitations type bills?

SENATOR MAHONEY: We have kind of shared that. Sometimes we send some of those that have, Judiciary normally gets most of them, but sometimes they can be found in Labor, sometimes they will be found in other committees.

SENATOR DeCAMP: Where do they normally send bills that deal almost exclusively or deal primarily with the limitations on damages in a piece of legislation?

SENATOR MAHONEY: Senator DeCamp, you are having your finest hour as a trial lawyer right now but I will answer you. In most cases, we do give Judiciary those bills that are judicial happenings but this is a complete whole new ball game.

SENATOR DeCAMP: Where do they normally send bills setting
